The screenshot shows the Microsoft Word 'New' dialog box. On the left is a blue sidebar with navigation options: Info, New (highlighted), Open, Save, Save As, Print, Share, Export, Close, Account, and Options. At the bottom of the sidebar is a file named 'Blank Ribbon.dotm'. The main area is titled 'New' and contains a search bar for online templates. Below the search bar are suggested searches: Business, Personal, Industry, Print, Design Sets, Event, and Education. Under the 'FEATURED' section, the word 'CUSTOM' is circled in red. Below this, two folder icons are shown with green arrows pointing to them from the text 'These folder names set by user.' The left folder is labeled 'Shared Templates' and has an annotation: 'Folder designated as Workgroup Templates Folder in File Location Options'. The right folder is labeled 'Custom Office...' and has an annotation: 'Folder designated as Custom Office Templates Folder under Save Options (does not hold normal.dotm template)'.
